

Janet BOWKER

Posizione attuale: Researcher and Adjunct Professor in English Studies and Translation, Sapienza University of Rome

Profilo: Janet Bowker received her university education and training at the Universities of Reading and London, UK.

For the last 28 years she has taught English at the Sapienza University of Rome, Faculty of Economics.

She is the coordinator for computer-mediated testing in the English Department, and has also served on the Cambridge University Syndicate of English Testing for Central Italy, as well as being co-writer for testing material for the Italian “Camera dei Deputati”.

She has published numerous courses and articles focussing on ESP (English for Specific Purposes) and EAP (English for Academic Purposes).

Her research interests lie mainly in testing, European language policy, business discourse analysis and cognitive and socio-pragmatics.

She is part of the Faculty commission for “Erasmus and Life-Long Learning Projects”, and holds regular workshops and seminars involving regional institutions, “Sapienza e Lavoro”, and student organizations, aimed at the integration of new graduates into the world of work.